

County-Specific Adult Long-Term Services and Support Users in California – Characteristics, Service Use, and Spending

Detailed 2008 data describing adult long-term services and support users (LTSS) for each of California's 58 counties can be found in the attached tables. The data include information about LTSS users' Medi-Cal eligibility status, demographics, as well as cognitive, functional, and social characteristics. Nursing facility use as well as spending on various services among fee-for-service LTSS users are also detailed in separate tables. The LTSS user population is not defined by an eligibility category, but instead by service use. For this analysis, the services defining LTSS include Medi-Cal reimbursed nursing facility services, home health, In-Home Supportive Services, Adult Day Health Care, Targeted Case Management, and any of the Medi-Cal HCBS waiver programs. (Refer to the full report for complete information about the methodology).
